"Uncle Billy Waggoner, who lives a few miles from Columbia, is the second oldest person in the county. If he lives until next June he will be ninety years of age. His general health is good and he gets about remarkably well for a person so advanced in years. No one has to attend him, and he shaves himself regularly every week. He is taking excellent care of himself with the hope that he will live to the centenary mark.
M. J. Coleman, a United States Deputy Marshal, struck this county last week with a touch of warrants. Thursday John Burton, who lives in the eastern portion of the county was arrested and locked up, charged with selling liquor without license. Thursday night the Marshal visited the Milltown country and arrested John and Isaac McCallister, charged with making. They were brought to Columbia and lodged in jail. It is said that Burton makes no denial of the charge against him.
A large barn which belonged to Dr. J. J. Booker, Camp Knox, was consumed by fire last Thursday night. The barn contained this year's tobacco crop, thirty barrels of corn and a lot of hay. The fire occurred at 11 o'clock at night, and it was a mere accident that the Doctor's residence and storehouse was not burned. Dr. Booker and his wife were in Louisville at the time. Two corn cribs and a good lot of farm machinery was also destroyed. It was by the hardest work of the neighbors who had gathered in to prevent their dwelling from being burned. Only a small insurance was on the property and the loss will exceed $800. Mr. Alec Workman, a tenant who had his crop of tobacco in the barn sustains a heavy loss as his entire crop was burned.

Mrs. Susan Russell Dead.
The subject of this sketch was born September 18th, 1815, at Camp Knox, Green county, Ky., and died October 19th, 1901, at her home in this city, thus reaching the good old age of 86 years and four months. She was married to Mr. James M. Russell, September 16th, 1837, he having preceded her to the grave in April 1896, in his 88th year. For several weeks Mrs. Russell had been in a feeble state of health but was not in a dangerous condition until pneumonia set up three or four days prior to her death. She was the only surviving member of the old family of Mitchels, so well and favorably known in this section of country, and whose sense of honor and uprightness of life was so thoroughly a part of their being. She was a member of the Presbyterian church, a devoted Christian and mother and lived to see her children, three sons and two daughters, become useful and influential. In her declining years, in the last hours of her life, she was the recipient of love and devotion from her children in the fullest and truest form. All that medical aid and tender nursing could do did not stay the cold hand of death but the satisfaction of the doctors can not be measured or erased. The deceased was the mother of Mr. J. O. Russell, James Russell, Miss Kate Russell, Mrs. M. Patterson, of this city, and Mr. Jo Russell, of Louisville. Services were held at the home on Sunday at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. T. F. Walton, after which the body was interred in the city cemetery. A noble life has ended, a devoted mother gone, and none can truly sympathize save those who have passed through a similar ordeal.
Family Re-Union.
One day last week Mr. B. B. Cravens, a native of Adair county, but who has been living in Lineville, Iowa, for the past forty years, conceived the idea that a day could be happily spent on the grounds where he and his sisters were partially reared—the old Elijah Cravens place, on the waters of Russell's creek, two and a half miles from town. Accordingly, his five sisters, Mrs. Malinda Montgomery, Mrs. Ann Garnett, Mrs. Fannie Pierce, Mrs. J. P. Hancock and Mrs. W. E. Hancock, the husbands of the latter two and the children of the whole party and Mr. Cravens and his daughter went to the site where the older ones "here mentioned" played in their boyhood and girlhood days.
It had been forty years since Mr. Cravens left that scene, and many changes had taken place. The old homestead where he spent so many happy days and nights were gone, the dear old father and mother, who bade him farewell when he started on his Western trip were long since gone to their reward—sad but never to be forgotten memories. He drives them away and takes up more pleasant reflections. The yard and trees and the scenery about the old place look familiar, and here the group spread and partook of a bountiful dinner. It was a happy event, a day at the old homestead that will never be forgotten.

For Sale.
My farm containing 87 acres on Sulphur fork creek, four miles from Neatsburg, and about three miles from Eunice, Adair county, Kentucky, known as the Levi Jones farm. This farm has 40 acres in cultivation and the remainder in timber, well watered and buildings all new, only one-fourth mile from school-house and half a mile from the main Columbia and Stanford road. This farm can be bought cheap and on easy terms by calling on W. F. Neat at Columbia, Ky.
S. C. NEAT.
Ruleville, Mississippi.
Capt. W. E. Cabell, of Green county, who served his country in the Philippine War returned to his old home in Green a few days ago. Coming from the hot climate of the Philippine Pacification into the frosty nights of American Sovereignty Capt. Cabell is a little indisposed, but we trust he will soon be able to stir out and take the handshakes of his many friends in this section.
Mr. John M. Campbell, of Pelletton, has secured a position with Green & Sons, Louisville, wholesale Boots and Shoes. Mr. Campbell will call on the merchants of ten or twelve counties in south central Kentucky, including Adair. He is an experienced merchant, a true gentleman, and we be, speak for him success in his new field of work. He goes upon the road this week.
Ed Lodgen, a moonshiner of the Green river section of country, whose record for law breaking is so well known to the people of this part of the State, plead guilty in the Federal Court last week, to the charge of making whiskey without Government license and was fined $500 and a jail sentence for eight months. Lodgen has been a terror in this section for 30 years and has given the Federal officers as much trouble as any man in the history of moonshining.
